Staffordville Playground is a small park attached to Senator Buchanan School. This is a mature area with plenty of shade provided by the surrounding trees.

The playground features slides, climbing apparatus, and super swing set.

There is also a fair amount of open space perfect for children's games like hide and seek and tag.

There is plenty of parking located along the west side of the park making this a great spot to visit on those hot summer days where you want to try and stay out of the sun.
